

What's in your stress bucket?

Inside the bucket, write down all of the things that are stressing you out. Then, around the outside of the bucket, write down all of the positive things you could do to release some of the stress.

